GASTROPARESIS AWARENESS

An estimated 10 million Americans are suffering from a condition known as...

Gastroparesis

Gastroparesis is a condition in which the stomach is paralyzed and does not move foods or liquids through the digestive tract. The muscles in the wall of the stomach work poorly or not at all, preventing your stomach from emptying properly. Gastroparesis can cause digestion problems, nausea, vomiting, pain, erratic blood sugar levels & malnutrition.

PLEASE CALL YOUR LOCAL GASTROENTEROLOGIST IF THESE SYMPTOMS ARE FAMILIAR TO YOU AFTER EATING
